

Scholarship programme of the City of Kiel

for Students from Kiel's Twin Cities for a study at Kiel University

The City of Kiel has a longstanding tradition of offering scholarships for a 10-month study period at Kiel University. The regulations for these scholarships have recently been modified. Eligible are now students from universities in Kiel's twin cities. The scholarships shall contribute to foster the close relationship between the City of Kiel and its twin cities as well as to support talented international students and to strengthen their interest in academic study and research. From the summer semester 2019 on there are also scholarships for one semester available.

For the academic year 2023/2024

or winter semester 2023/2024 or/and summer semester 2024

four one-year scholarships or eight semester scholarships are available.

Eligible are students from their 3rd semester of studies (Bachelor's and Master's level). Study projects with a reference to the City of Kiel (e.g. Kiel's history, Marine Science) or covering one of the research foci of Kiel University will particularly be supported.

Kiel University has currently four interdisciplinary research foci:

- Marine & Geosciences
- Applied Life Sciences
- Nano and Surface Sciences
- Societal, Environmental, Cultural Change

Kiel University is also renown for Economics, (International) Law and for its specific focus on the Baltic Sea, especially in many disciplines in the humanities. For further information, please refer to our homepage: www.uni-kiel.de/forschung/de.

Language of instruction: Programmes at Bachelor's level are usually taught in German. At the Master's level we offer several programmes which are fully taught in English (see quick link "International Master programmes" on our website: www.international.uni-kiel.de/).

The City of Kiel is interested in developing close links with its scholarship holders, not only during the scholarship period but also beyond.

The Scholarship

The scholarship amounts to € 934 per month for the period October 1st, 2023 until February 29th, 2024 and/or March 1st, 2024 until July 31th, 2024. A prolongation is not possible. The scholarship is adequate to cover the living costs in Kiel. The semester fee – which includes a bus ticket – is about € 270. Fees for health assurance are about € 100 per month. We can offer rooms in a student dormitory for € 260 to € 280 per month (excluding board). Lunch for a moderate price is available in the university cafeteria. The home institution must confirm that all candidates are needy, i.e. that they do not have sufficient financial resources to carry out a study abroad on their own.

Language requirements

- a) Students who apply for study programmes which are taught in German have to prove that they have at least language proficiency that corresponds to level B1 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR)
- b) Students who apply for study programmes which are taught in English have to prove that they have at least language proficiency that corresponds to level B2.

Application Procedure

Applicants are requested to apply via the Rector's office of their home universities only. Application forms are available in the International Offices of the home universities. The application must include: letter of motivation with intended study project in Kiel (incl. a detailed statement why the University Kiel/region Kiel have been chosen for the stay), CV, transcript of records, two letters of academic recommendation from the docents of the field of study, proof of language requirements, one photo.

The universities in Kiel's Twin Cities are kindly requested to recommend not more than three students per institution and to send the list of their nominees to Kiel University by April 1st, 2023.
